PANIC OF PASSENGERS ADDS TO HORROR

Bravery of the Captain and Crew in Efforts to Save the Passengers, Proves of Little Avail— List of Dead and Missing.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—A heavy rain throughout the night retarded the work of rescuing the bodies of the victims of the Rio Janeiro disaster and up to seven o'clock this morning only eleven dead had been recovered, seven of whom are identified as follows:

Mrs. Sarah Wakefield, Oakland; Mrs. Alfred Hart, Manila; Charles Dowdall, Shanghai; Edward Barwick, Prisco; Angelo Gussing, Honolulu; Stewardess Julia Dornmann; Japanese mess boy; and four Chinamen.

There is no doubt that the Wildman family perished. The investigation into the cause and the responsibility will begin on Monday.

General Manager Schwerin of the Pacific mail blames Captain Ward for disobeying orders not to enter port during a fog.

A revised list of the dead and missing places the number at one hundred and twenty-eight.

PAT CROW CLAIMS THAT HE IS INNOCENT

Alleged Kidnapers Writes a Letter and Says He Will Give Himself Up

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 23.—E. A. Cudaby has received a letter unmistakably from Pat Crowe in which Crowe denies all complicity with the kidnaping of Eddie Cudaby and states that he will soon come in and give himself up. He also says that he will explain satisfactorily why he has kept in hiding. He says further that he has not surrendered before because he feared lynching.

The letter was dated at South Omaha on Feb. 15 and bore an Omaha postmark. It was doubtless first received by a confederate and then remailed here. Mr. Cudaby is convinced of the genuineness of the letter and so is William A. Pinkerton, who now has it in his possession in Chicago.

The letter was received by Mr. Cudaby on Thursday of last week and was forwarded to Mr. Pinkerton. It was a lengthy one, and as Mr. Cudaby said: "contained a whole lot of riddle," but the prominent feature of it was Crowe's repeated denial

The most prominent passenger on the steamer was Rouseville Wildman, United States Consul at Hongkong, who was accompanied by his wife and two children. All were drowned. The ship was in command of Pilot Frederick Jordan when it struck. He was rescued. Captain William Ward went down with his vessel.

Captain May Have Shot Himself.

One woman passenger, Mrs. Kate West, of San Francisco, stated later her belief that the captain committed suicide before the vessel went down. He had said during the voyage that he would blow out his brains sooner than bear the disgrace of a wreck. She insists he locked himself in his cabin shortly before the ship sank. Others also say the captain went into his cabin, but reports on this point do not agree. There are varying statements as to the conduct of the officers and crew. Some say that the officers and sailors were cool and conscientiously endeavoring to get out the boats and save as many passengers as possible, while others declare that as soon as the seriousness of the situation became apparent there was an end to discipline among the seamen, and that it was "every man for himself."

No Time to Lower Boats.

Conflicting accounts of the details of the disaster are told by survivors, but all agree on the statement that there was no time to get down the boats. The City of Rio de Janeiro was three days overdue from Hongkong via Honolulu when it arrived off the Heads last night, and the dense fog prevailing at the time induced Pilot Jordan to bring it to anchor until he could see his way clear through the gateway. It lay to until about 4:30 o'clock when the atmosphere cleared and it was started under a slow bell toward Point Bonita. All went well until 5:40 o'clock, when it struck. Most of the passengers were below at the time, and it is believed that many of them were drowned in their berths.

Wild Rush for the Boats.

There was not much confusion until fifteen minutes after striking, the bow of the vessel suddenly plunged under water. Then there was a wild rush for the boats. Two boats had already been lowered and others were getting away as rapidly as the trained discipline of the crew could prepare them. A thick fog enveloped everything, and as yet no sign had come from the life-saving stations. Darkness was all about, and with this added terror the people on the Rio had to cope.

One Boat Cleared.

One boat got clear of the vessel without damage. This contained Mrs. West, Mrs. Ripley, Chief Engineer Herlihy, Second Officer Coghlan, Frank Cramp, J. R. Russell, Storekeeper Borge, Walter Tandler D. Lenn, Quartermaster R. Mathieson and Captain Hecht of the German navy. The boat after getting clear, stood by to help in picking up those who had no time to get into the boats and were in the water. Another boat, containing Third Officer Holland and J. K. Carpenter, also got away, but was drifted around close up under the bow of the steamer. As the forward end of the vessel plunged downward the prow caught the small boat and cut it in two. The two men in the boat were uninjured, and swam away from the sinking steamer just in time to avoid being caught in the swirl of water caused by the settling of the big ship. Carpenter was picked up by the other boat. The fate of Holland is not known, but he is supposed to have perished.

The First News of the Disaster Reached Here at 7:30 o'clock a. m., and soon afterward a boat of rescued passengers and petty officers arrived at the mail dock.

Tugs Reach Scene Too Late.

Tugs were immediately dispatched to render any service that might be needed, but no living persons were about when they reached the wreck. A number of drowning persons were rescued by Italian fishermen, and the bodies of two white women, three Chinese, and a Japanese were brought in by the tugs. The search for more of the victims continued all day. The wreck lies about three-fourths of a mile south of Fort Point, and about a thousand yards off the rocky shore. The smokestack and a portion of the upper works of the steamer are visible. The cargo of the Rio de Janeiro was valued at more than $500,000. There was besides $600,000 in treasure in the specie tank. The steamer itself was valued at from $50,000 to $700,000.

Ten's Is to Make a Test.

New York, Feb. 23.—According to the Tribune's London correspondent, Nikola Tesla will test his system of transatlantic wireless telegraphy along the fortieth parallel, from the coast of New Jersey to the coast of Portugal, James Galbraith of New York left London last night for Lisbon, with the electrical apparatus to be used in connection with the trial.

Violent Thrown Sentence.

Boston, Feb. 23.—Elizabeth De L'Es- poille has been found guilty of mayhem in the Middlesex criminal court at East Cambridge, and was sentenced to prison for five years. Her victim, John Bouchard, who is totally blind, and whose face is frightfully scarred by the violent thrown by Mrs. De L'Es- poille, was in court when sentence was pronounced.

RECOMMENDED BUT DID NOT DEMAND

No Mandatory Action by State Convention for Primary Law.

PARTY IS NOT PLEDGED

Original Draft of the Resolution is Said to Contain the Word "Demand."

BUT RECOMMEND IS ADOPTED

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 23.—When "Cully" Adams appeared as the chief defender of the LaFollette idea for a Primary election law before the legislative committee at Madison, he said that his republicans of Wisconsin were pledged to the principle, and were in duty bound to put the bill on the statute books in the shape of a law.

This is what he said in effect, and it is what has been said by all of the hustling reformers since Aug. 8, last. But now comes the stalwarts who point to the columns of the local morning papers, the Sentinel, and other authorities for the proof that the party in convention assembled pledged itself to nothing of the kind.

THE PLANK ON THE PLATFORM.

Nether will they admit that anything of this nature was demanded, although Messrs. Adams, Stevens, LaFollette, Strunge, and others may insist that the word recommended is a synonym for demand and pledge. The plank in the platform as it now appears in the publications noted is as follows:

"We therefore recommend that caucuses conventions for the nomination of candidates for office be abolished by legislative enactment."

It is reported that the original draft of the resolutions has disappeared. This, it is said, contained the word demand when presented to the evening papers previous to its adoption but was changed by the committee on resolutions. The matter is being investigated for the purpose of presentation in its proper light.

RECOMMENDED, NOT DEMANDED.

This controversy over the exact wording of the platform adopted Aug. 8, 1900, started in this way: On the day of the convention the evening papers of Milwaukee printed the platform which contained the words "We therefore demand that caucuses and conventions for the nomination of candidates for office be abolished," etc. On the following day the Sentinel printed the platform and the plank relating to the primary election law.

"RECOMMEND" IN CONVENTION.

Copies of the platform containing the word demand were furnished by the evening papers and the Associated Press by members of the of the committee on resolutions. The Sentinel had in convention an expert short hand reporter, Charles H. Welch, whose accuracy has never been questioned. The notes of Mr. Welch were later transcribed and the Sentinel used the platform as it was adopted in the convention. When the question over the wording of the platform arose yesterday the Sentinel requested Mr. Welch to produce his shorthand notes of the convention report.

He did so and the report showed that the word recommended was used when Chairman Chynoweth of Madison read the report of his committee. The opponents of the bill assert that the platform as read and adopted in the convention is the official one no matter what transpired in the committee room, and make the point that the word recommended does not place the party under any pledge to pass the bill. They assert that the platform as printed in the Sentinel is the correct one.

LA FOLLETTE SAYS DEMAND

Governor LaFollette was called up on the long distance telephone last evening and questioned about the controversy over the platform. He said that he had heard nothing about it, but that the plank in the state platform was adopted with reference to the primary election bill just drafted.

"The original draft read 'demand' said the governor, "and it was so adopted. Mr. Chynoweth, chairman of the committee, so informed me after the convention and other members of the committee with whom I spoke made the same statement."

Robert H. Odell, who is compiling the next state blue book, came in from Madison last night. He says that while there he called on General Bryant, and was shown what purported to be the original draft of the platform and contains the word "demand."

RECORDS SAY DEMAND.

Secretary Zeno M. Host of the republican state central committee yesterday was asked what the platform of the party contained. He took forth the minutes of the state convention as transcribed by Official Reporter W. A. Richter and certified to by Chairman H. C. Adams, and showed that the platform as shown by the Central committee's records contained the word demand and not the word recommend. Mr. Host was asked for the original draft of the platform and then made this explanation:

QUESTION RAISED BEFORE.

"This same question came up in December and General Bryant state chairman, then wrote me for the original draft of the platform in order to satisfy himself as to what

WILL PUSH THE PRIMARY BILL

Gov. LaFollette May Speak Before Committee in Its Behalf;

BILLS BREAK RECORD

Osteopathy Bill is in a Fair Way to Become a Law of the State.

REGULAR DOCTORS LOST GRIP

Madison, Wis., Feb. 23.—The committee report on the primary election bill will probably be submitted to both houses before the end of another week. Tuesday afternoon and evening will both be devoted to the last public hearing to be given on the bill by the committees on privileges and elections of both branches in joint session.

It has been reported that Governor LaFollette will appear before the committee at the evening session to speak for the measure but this appears to be uncertain. After Tuesday night its discussion will be confined within the committee until its report is made. This it is believed to be of practically one mind, and a unanimous report in favor of the bill is expected.

There is little doubt that it will pass the assembly by a good majority, but it is conceded on all sides that the vote in the senate will be close, and the best friends of the bill say that the result there is in doubt.

RECORD BREAKER FOR BILLS

Tuesday was a record breaker in point of new bills introduced, a total of 335 being offered in both houses. Altogether 1,000 bills have been introduced, with others still to come from committees. This is more than 100 over the total two years ago.

Little work was accomplished this week beyond the introduction of bills, the adjournment over Washington's birthday cutting down the length of the week.

SPECIAL CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

The most important bill which became a law this week was the one providing for the re-assessment of valuations for special assessments for special improvements in cities of the third and fourth class. It was designed to help the city of LaCrosse out of the difficulty it found itself in through a failure to properly adopt the provisions of the general charter law on the subject of special assessments before laying some vitriol brick pavement, but it was discovered that it applied equally well to other cities when specially improvement taxes had been illegally assessed.

It provides that when a city of the third or fourth class orders special improvements before adopting the clauses of the general charter act providing therefore, it may adopt them later and assess for the improvement.

PRACTICE OF OSTEOPATHY.

The bill legalizing the practice of osteopathy in the state of Wisconsin is in a fair way to become a law. It was advanced to the third reading in the senate this week without a struggle, and it is likely to pass the upper house practically without opposition, and its friends predict an equally easy road for it in the assembly.

14 WOLVES ATTACK BOY.

Mattoon, Ill., Feb. 23.—Details of an attack by a pack of fourteen wolves upon Linley, the twelve-year-old son of F. M. Bane, a farmer near Kansas, Edgar county, has just reached here. Young Bane at dusk rode on horseback to the pasture bottoms about a quarter of a mile from the house to bring home the cows. His horse was surrounded by five large gray wolves and nine half grown cubs and the beasts made a desperate attempt to pull the lad down. His felt boots and trousers were torn by their claws, and had his horse not fought and kicked through the pack Linley would have fallen a prey to the animals. The horse finally broke away with the wolves yelping at his heels. A general hunt is being organized to exterminate the beasts.

TO INCREASE JUDGES SALARIES

The bill to increase the salaries of the supreme and circuit judges is having a hard row to hoe in the committee on claims. The portion providing an increase for circuit judges from $3,000 to $5,000 was once eliminated but is said to have since been restored.

The committee is said to be equally divided on the bill as a whole. Unless there

OPEN LIBRARIES FOR THE FARMERS

Wisconsin State Association Elects Officers and Urges Free Rural Distribution.

Eau Claire, Wis., Feb. 23.—The Wisconsin state library association today elected officers as follows:

President—DR. HURD of Chippewa Falls.

Vice President—MRS. J. S. ANDERSON of Manitowish.

Secretary—MISS BERTHA M. BROWN of Eau Claire.

Treasurer—MISS NELLIE C. SILVER-THORN of Wausau.

The officers will select the place for the next meeting. A committee was also appointed to promote the distribution of books to farmers by means of rural free delivery routes.

The chairman of this committee is L. M. Newman of Chippewa Falls. The idea was put into operation in Dunn county and Buffalo county recently, this being the first effort of the kind in the United States. The postoffice department stopped it under a technical ruling, but it is believed that this ruling will be reversed.

The Wisconsin association was organized ten years ago when there were only ten or twelve libraries in the state, and was largely instrumental in the creating of the state commission, which was represented at its meeting by Secretary Hutchins, Rouben G. Thwaites and others. In the first four years of the state commission's library work the gifts of private individuals to libraries have amounted to $533,000, and the amount invested in that time in public library buildings has been $1,533,000.

NOTES FROM THE CLUB WOMEN

The most notable happenings in club circles during the last week was the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Women's clubs of Chicago.

It must be very inspiring to look back and review events from the small beginning of twenty members to that of nearly 1,000, and the great good accomplished by this band of educated, progressive and very much in earnest women is beyond compare. But could not Janesville women accomplish quite as much in proportion, if united together for a common purpose?

Many delightful events are scheduled for Chicago club women this week, among them being, Japanese day at the Japanese culture club where Dr. Buckley will speak, a talk on art in stained glass before the Nike club, a lecture on Eugene Field before the Highland Park club and a reception by the Klio to the Chicago artists.

The reception given by the Chicago Matheon for Richard Mansfield was a great success, the distinguished artist being in his happiest mood especially when showered with attentions by the attractive young ladies during the tea hour that followed the talk.

Another important gathering is the 10th Continental Congress of the D. A. R. being held in Washington this week. This society has had a phenomenal growth and in spite of its comparatively brief existence now has a membership of over 30,000. A special train carried the Chicago delegates and their families and about 3,000 daughters were present at the congress. Mrs. James Sidney Peck was again made state regent for the state of Wisconsin.

The history section of the Art League met Friday with Mrs. Ashcraft with Mrs. Pember presiding. A lecture by Madame Friedland was announced for March 28, at the Congregational S. S. rooms. The subject is "Development of the Italian Woman," admission 25 cents. The regular program on Macbeth will be taken up. Mrs. Brewer treated of the man as the politician, statesman and diplomat. He played a most important part in Florentine politics and was sent on various embassies. He wrote many articles on statecraft and a bright comedy almost equal to Shakespeare.

Mrs. T. O. Howe treated of him as a historian. The most finished of Italian prose is found in his histories of Florence. His work, "The Prince" is the finest of his productions. No man ever walked down the aisle of fame with so small a book under his arm.

Mrs. Pember read some selections from Stoddard's lectures. It may be interesting to note the various literary clubs of women in the city and their membership. A partial list is as follows, Art League 85 members; Athena class, 30; Women's History class, 20; Auxiliary, 15; Eastern Star study class, 20; Philo-Mathian, 20; Current Topics, 24; St. Catherine's, 20. This gives a total membership of about 230, beside the 20th century, Tourist Club, Art Class and others yet to hear from. Who says Janesville is lacking in literary women.

A city federation to unite these varying interests and bring them together for common work, and convenient club rooms are necessities of the future.

With this number the "Notes from the Club Women" are discontinued. As a rule the club women don't wish to be noted. A majority of women's clubs have voted not to be mentioned in the papers.

Many thanks are due the Gazette for the use of their space. What service has been rendered by the club though often unappreciated has been a source of inspiration and pleasure many times.

EVENING SPENT WITH CURRENT HISTORY

Paper on Election Law by T. S. Nolan, and the Slav by John Fisher—T. O. Howe on Hall Bill.

The usual good attendance was present at last evening's session of the Current History club in the Court Street M. E. church parlors. The program was of more than common interest, in that topics of vital importance were presented by gentlemen who had made them a special study.

Attorney T. S. Nolan presented a clear-cut paper on the Primary Election Law. He reviewed the different methods of nominating candidates, and felt that the old mass meeting was the choice of the lot. His objections to the bill were eight, the most important of which were that it was populist in sentiment, gave power to minority vote, ruled out the poor and modest candidate, made machine politics and money necessary to success, discriminated against the farming community and small towns in favor of large, and was not wanted by the republican party. Each objection was illustrated so as to be perfectly intelligible to those not interested in the machinery of politics.

John Fisher's essay on the Slav as a race, threw much needed light on this unfamiliar race. He claimed it was the last scion of the original Aryan stock. It includes Russians, Poles, Bulgarians, Bohemians, Croats, Hungarians and Servians. The disposition of the Slav is marked with patience and resignation. He is intensely realistic and profoundly melancholy.

His literature, music and plastic art all show these marks of national peculiarity. But the Slav is waking up and is the European force of the future. Germany has reached her day; England, her midday, France her afternoon; Italy, her evening and Spain her night. The Slav country is just at the dawn of the morning.

T. O. Howe spoke on the Hall bill No. 78 from the standpoint of the manufacturer. He read a few sections to show their impracticability, and then turned his argument against the seeming fairness of the bill, which really is only so on the surface.

He maintained that certain privileges to a certain class which could use such advantages and which did not abridge the rights of either individuals or communities were in the line of general benefits. In his own business the commodity rates furnished him by the railroads enabled him to compete with manufacturers in the same lines, helped the railroads, which would not get the business at the regular rates, and the general public which constituted the purchasers. No one was defrauded or their rights abridged.

The Hall bill was aimed against such business arrangements and would block the wheels of trade.

Interpersed among the heavier numbers were two delightful violin solos by Oscar Halverson, a vocal duet Mr. and Miss. Nott, and a solo by Mr. Smith. The program was exceedingly good.

Take Rocky Mountain Tea. See it exterminates poison. Feel it revitalize your blood and nerves and bring back that happy, joyous feeling of boyhood days. 35c. Sold at Smith's pharmacy, kodak agents, next to postoffice.

heat can be taken away in the same manner. The new system has been in use only for a few weeks and the trainmen have not become fully conversant with the arrangement, and for that reason the best results have not yet been attained. However, it is much more comfortable in the cars than heretofore.

Spectators and maskers to the number of several hundred attended the Rebekah masquerade last evening at Assembly hall. The chairs down stairs and the gallery were well filled, and the spectacle was brilliant and attractive.

The grand march at 10:30 was led by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Koebelin, followed by a score or so of Canton Janesville in their handsome new uniforms, and other maskers and dominoes. Immediately after an exhibition drill was given by the Canton under the direction of Drill Master Koebelin.

The festivity kept up till 1 this morning, and was enjoyed to the full. Smith's orchestra furnished the music. Much of the success of the affair belongs to James A. Fathens, C. W. Schwartz, F. L. Smith and B. R. Blanchard, who constituted the arrangement committee.

HORACE M'ELROY'S MINERAL DISPLAY

Among the mineralogical specimens in Horace M'Elroy's law office are several of obsidian, or volcanic glass. This is the mineral of which the Aztecs made their arrow heads, when they unsuccessfully defended their native land at the time of the conquest by Cortez.

The sacrificial knives they used when they cut the heart out of the victim's living body were made of this mineral, and they were able to cut through the breast bone at one stroke, so it must be susceptible of a fine cutting edge. In the collection is a blade that might have been, but probably was not used for such purposes.

Another curious little article picked up in Mexico is a piece of pottery like a double pipe bowl. Mr. M'Elroy thinks it must have been used as a pipe, for among some of the South American Indian tribes it is the practice to inhale the smoke through a reed at the top instead of through a hole at the side. This, however, is conjecture.

Mr. M'Elroy's collection is large, nicely arranged and contains some very rare and beautiful specimens. He has traveled extensively through the east and through tropical America and has lasting souvenirs of nearly every stopping place.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The dainty "Belle of New York," fresh from European conquests, will appear at Myers Grand on Monday evening next. Her demure face, still crowned by the poke bonnet of the Salvation army lass which will be interpreted by Miss Beulah Dodge, an actress new to American audiences. Miss Dodge is pretty, winsome and possesses a most beautiful voice, and it is safe to predict that she will make a new record on the part of the Salvation army lassie, which was made so famous by the fair Edna May in London. There will be a new "Pia" in the person of Mae Sailor. E. J. Connelly who is well known as the original Joel Gates of "Shore Acres" will impersonate the part of "Elder Bronson." Joseph Kane will again be seen as "The Polite Lunatic."

The immense energy of all the company, as well as their cleverness, has established for this organization a reputation second to none. The record of 697 performances in London has never been approached by any American theatrical product. In all a record of 3,000 performances in three years in America, England, Australia, and South Africa.

She has signed a three months' engagement, which may be extended to a year. The troupe will leave on a western tour extending to the Pacific coast.

The board has retained the spelling found on official Spanish charts.

From Deep Sorrow to Great Joy

What Mother's Love and Tender Care Failed to Accomplish Hood's Sarsaparilla Promptly Effected.

"I would cry every time I washed my baby!"

This plaintive sentence tells a volume of mother's agony. In such a dreadful condition from eruptions and sores, Mrs. Guerinet's child received the tenderest care that mother's love could give, and the most skillful medical attendance that father's means could provide. Yet all failed until they turned to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which in this as in thousands of other cases has seemed to be the last resort, yet it has not failed. The result was inevitable—just as certain to cure as that day follows night. Evening's weeping turned to morning's rejoicing. That is what Hood's Sarsaparilla will do for you if you will only let it. Just read Mrs. Guerinet's letter. It is a characteristic Hood's Sarsaparilla testimonial:

"My baby was three months old when festers broke out on his neck. The openings appeared like boils, spread down his back and along the spinal column until it appeared as one mass of sores. Our doctor prescribed for the case, but the disease spread and the little one's sufferings increased and he became a mere shadow. His pitiful wailing was heart-rending. It nearly crazed me, weary and worn-out as I was from constant watching and nursing. The discharge of matter was so profuse that it was necessary to dress his back three times a day. Every time the bandages were removed blood would flow and for a time even powders and different salves did not check the trouble. It became necessary to wrap the little body in silk. When the trouble appeared at its height our anxiety was increased by the appearance of a boil just outside the lid alongside one of his eyes. We feared lest the scrofulous matter get into the eye, and even if his life was spared to us, that his sight would become affected."

"I had about given up hope of saving my baby, when I was asked why I did not try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Eager for anything that held out hope, I procured a bottle of Hood's. I also got a cake of Hood's Medicated Soap and a box of Hood's Olive Ointment. I immediately laid aside all the doctor's medicines and gave the infant the smallest dose of the Sarsaparilla prescribed, and then took off the bandages and washed the mass of sores with the Medicated Soap. Next I applied the Olive Ointment and adjusted a fresh wrapping of silk. A change was noticeable the next Sunday, giving assurance that we had at last hit upon the treatment to successfully fully battle the poisonous blood. "Slowly but with a perceptible gain, the discharge grew less, the inflammation disappeared, the surrounding skin took on a more healthy color, and what a short time before had been a mass of raw flesh began to scale over and gradually a thin skin formed and the scales dropped off. Not a scar or blemish around the eye, neck or back or anywhere on his body is to be found, and now at eight months old he is as bright, healthy and full grown as any child of that age. Less than two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, aided by Hood's Medicated Soap and Hood's Olive Ointment, accomplished this wonderful cure."

"I cannot begin to express my gratitude towards Hood's Sarsaparilla and your other medicines for the good they accomplished in my baby's case." Mrs. N. GUERINET, 37 Myrtle St., Rochester, N. Y.

For the cure of all blood diseases and Spring Humors, Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled. Try it.

"THE FORTY DAYS FAST."

Commencing with "Ash Wednesday" and continuing for forty days is the period known as "Lent." A season dedicated by three of the great Christian churches—the Episcopal, Roman Catholic, and Lutheran—to abstinence and self-sacrifice.

A custom so ancient that it obtains much of the usage and inspiration from the early church, commanding the respect of the Christian world.

While Lent is distinctive, and is the rite of a few individual churches. It would be better for humanity, and better for the church at large, if the spirit that keeps the altar fires burning with old time intensity, permeated all churches, and held them in firmer grasp to the old moorings.

The churches that observe Lent belong to the class of stable churches. They may possess form, and lack emotion, but they never waver or vacillate. They are not annoyed by fads or fadists. If they have dissensions, they possess the wisdom to settle them at home. They never start any people's churches, or independent organizations.

So far as forms are concerned, they are essential to the life and prosperity of any church. A church without forms is like a ship without a rudder. It becomes a hopeless and helpless drifter, purposeless, and in the end a wreck.

The churches that observe Lent possess another qualification that all other churches could well afford to emulate, and that is the watchcare of their children.

They have never possessed or cultivated the insane idea that a child must be turned loose to graze on husks, and then by some superhuman effort brought back into the fold. They believe that the church should throw around every church home, the safeguards of Christian influence, and they practice what they believe, in practical ways.

Any child from any Christian home, can be easily directed into the church, before it reaches the age of stubbornness and wilfulness, and any church that closes its doors, or makes the way difficult for this class of God's little ones, has failed to interpret correctly the teachings of the Master, who said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

You say that boy or girl is a poor Catholic, a poor Episcopalian or a poor Lutheran. They might better be a poor anything with some church directly interested in them, than poor wanderers, adrift without star or compass in a world that at best is none too helpful.

You say the Holy Spirit can find them and bring them back. That may be true and may not. The church can certainly afford to aid the work of the Spirit, by intelligently lending a helping hand.

There are thousands of men and women today, outside the pale of churches, who would have been safely housed within the fold, had the church possessed the good sense to take them in in childhood. If the creed is responsible for this sort of neglect it should have been revised long ago.

The Lenten season furnishes the churches that observe it, a season for meditation, for prayer, and sacrifice. It is supposed to be a season when men and women become acquainted with themselves, the best knowledge that any individual ever acquired. "Know thyself," is one of the old, wise maxims, that never loses significance.

The churches that do not observe Lent, expect their members to spend a little time every day in prayer and meditation, and many of them do, but in the perplexities, as well as the pleasures of life it is easy to neglect, and neglectors are numerous.

The indifference so painfully apparent in many churches is the result of the ease with which the garment is worn or thrown aside. Church obligations are supposed to be sacred, but in too many cases it is only a supposition, lacking even the form of sacredness. Better by far to spend forty days in thoughtful reverence, than three hundred and sixty-five days in supreme indifference.

Church obligations, whether Lenten or otherwise, should be faithfully observed. The great outside world has a right to expect that they will be.

The churches of every creed will more thoroughly appreciate their sacred mission, when loyalty and faithfulness are the controlling influences, and when the children of men everywhere, are recognized as the children of God's solicitude, however wayward and wilful they may be.

SAFELY INVESTED.

A couple of Chicago ladies who became enamored with Dowiesm two or three years ago, had a little money—some $3,000—that they desired to invest. They possessed the utmost confidence in the new faith, and called on a leading representative for financial advice. He soon convinced them that he could handle the money, and that notes and securities were altogether too mercenary to be recognized by people of advanced thought and holy aspirations.

A year later they called on him for the interest, and were surprised to learn that he had forgotten all about the transaction. They refreshed his memory in various ways and finally it dawned upon him, when he informed them that the amount was so small that it had entirely escaped his memory. It came to him now that a couple of ladies had called on him for advice and he had suggested that they loan the money to the Lord. He had no knowledge of it but presumed the Lord was good for it. The women went away somewhat sad, but quite wise. They said that they had been trying to lay up treasure in heaven for some time, but it had never occurred to them to open a bank account. They knew the money belonged to the Lord and they were simply His stewards and had tried to be faithful. Thought there must be some mistake about it, and they are still looking for the error. They may find the proper credit on the books of the "Bank of Zion" when the legislative committee investigates.

This is not fiction, but simple fact, and is Dowiesm on a commercial basis. Fanaticism from another point of view, paralleled a few years ago under another name, when a lot of prohibition cranks organized the temperance town of Harvey, and sold $25 lots for $400, to a lot of gullible people, who couldn't get rid of their money fast enough.

That sort of deception under the guise of either temperance or religion is either prompted by incipient insanity, or well developed blasphemy. Both are dangerous to the welfare of society.

The Bicycle Side Path bill that passed the senate, will be popular with wheelmen. It provides that wheel paths may be built and maintained from a one dollar license fee. Whether there are wheelmen enough left to make the bill operative, remains to be tested. If the average business or professional man would spend an hour a day on a wheel, he would add five or ten years to his life, and make himself less of a nuisance, and more of a luxury around home. There's nothing like it for dyspepsia and the blues.

Prize fighters are receiving a severe drubbing these days than they are giving. Public sentiment is thoroughly aroused; yet those who would blush at being charged with having seen a prize fight, talk with gusto about the foot ball game. The character of the participants makes all the difference between the two sports; for boxing in and of itself is a manly exercise and conducive to a fine manly bearing.

Admiral Schley has shown himself a man by asking his over zealous friends to drop the controversy, and permit him to quietly accept second place in the line of promotion. More of this generous and manly spirit on the part of army and navy officers would save the nation from embarrassment and ridicule.

Superimposed turrets have scored a victory in the bursting of a gun on the Kearsarge. The second turret with its big guns could be used the same, protecting that part of the ship, which would be helpless with single turrets.

The "Bank of Zion" may deal largely in futures, but the custodian of trust funds is responsible for daily balances, and the Illinois legislature is wise in calling for Dowie's balance sheet.

Judge Orton's capital punishment bill should pass. Crime is altogether too prevalent, and a wholesome respect for a law that demands a life for a life, under certain conditions will serve as a good preventative.

When Mrs. Nation visits Wisconsin with her hatchet, the little town of Woodruff will not require her attention. Fire has got the start of her, wiping out eleven of the twelve saloons.

The trifle of $100,000,000 has been added to the billion dollar steel trust, and yet some people complain of poverty. Young man, go east; and try Wall street. "There's millions in it."

Henry Austin Adams may find a larger contract on his hands than he anticipated if he attempts to belittle the lives of such men as Abbott, Gunsaulus, Hillis and Hirsch.

Sec'y. Gage's trade of $30,000,000 in American machinery for $2,000,000 in Russian sugar, will not raise him to the hall of fame as a diplomatic statesman.

The question now is between the weather man and the ground hog—they both have their faults, and it seems to be a ground hog case with the prognosticator.

Wyoming evidently believes in toping off gradually; her anti-gambling bill is not to go into effect until next year.

And the "Free Lunch Bill" died in spite of its champion, who thought it was a temperance measure.

Denmark has decided not to sell the West Indies, after the United States has refused to buy.

Now that "Teddy" is out of the woods, the newspaper correspondent had better take to them.

We notice that the Commoner failed to display in headlines the vote of the electoral college.

In the great seal of the state of Kansas, the hatchet should replace the plow.

Spain, having now no colonies, has planned to pull off her revolution at home.

First Days of the Confederacy

The lecture to be delivered on the People's Lecture Course by General John B. Gordon on March 5th will be on the subject, "The First Days of the Confederacy" and not on "The Last Days of the Confederacy" as has been supposed by many. This lecture is a new one by General Gordon and has never been delivered in this section at all but has been pronounced by those who have heard both lectures as far the better of the two. The lecture course committee have invited the local G. A. K. post to attend in a body and the invitation has been accepted. One of the members of the Post will introduce Mr. Gordon. This attraction will be the great drawing card of the entire course and the committee are making special arrangements for the same.

Two Honored at Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 23.—D. L. James of Kansas City, Mo., and Alfred Cressler of Fort Wayne, Ind., are among the men who have been elected to positions on the board of the Yale Literary Magazine. An editorship on the "Lit" is considered the highest honors at Yale.

Driest Spot on Globe.

Payta, in Peru, is about five degrees south of the equator, has the reputation of being the driest spot on the globe. On an average a shower of rain occurs at Payta only once in two years. But the interval between showers is often much longer. Yet in that arid climate seven species of annual plants manage to exist, and the natives earn a livelihood by growing a species of cotton whose long roots find moisture in the bed of a dried-up river.

Artist If Not Actor.

Forbes Robertson, who married Gertrude Elliott recently, would have been an artist if he had not been an actor. He was an exhibitor in the academy before he was out of his teens. His portraits of Ellen Terry and Mme. Modjeska are well known, and he has painted an admirable picture of the church scene in "Much Ado About Nothing." The casket in which the actors' testimonial was presented to Sir Henry Irving was also designed by him. But Forbes Robertson found his true vocation at 21.

In Danger.

Every one is in danger who neglects the warnings of declining health. The warnings are not as startling as the sudden shriek of a locomotive, but they are just as ominous. When the body begins to lose in flesh, when the cheek is hollow and the skin sallow it is Nature's warning that the body is failing of proper nourishment. It is a condition of "weak" stomach, and "weak" stomach soon involves other organs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and cures through the stomach diseases seemingly remote, but which have their origin in the disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"Before I commenced to use your medicine I was in a bad condition (for eight years), and four doctors treated me," writes Mrs. Bettie Askew, of Garysburg, Northampton Co., N. C. "They, of course, gave me at the time some relief, but it did not last long. I was some days in my bed and some days I dragged about the house. I have used five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and five of the 'Favorite Prescription' and four vials of the 'Pellets.' Now I feel like a new woman, and I want the world to know it."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, paper binding, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only, or 21 stamps for it in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A DESERTED WIFE FINDS HER HUSBAND

SAM A. WARNER SURPRISED TO SEE HIS WIFE AND CHILD.

Deserted Them Three Years Ago at Lebanon, Ind.—Has Been Posing as a Single Man Among the Janesville
Girls—Stratagem of the Wife to Catch the Runaway.

A week ago last Thursday a handsome young woman with a little daughter, five years of age, arrived in this city from Lebanon, Ind. She went to the Park hotel where she registered as Mrs. Carrie Warner, Lebanon, Ind. She left the hotel and went in search of S. A. Warner, who has a barber shop at 34 South Main street and who is the husband of Mrs. Warner and the father of the child.

Mrs. Warner's object in coming to this city was to get Warner to support his child and to do something towards her support. Warner was much surprised to see his wife and child and went up to the Park with them. He settled for their lodging and was to see them the next morning. When they came to look for him the next day it was given out that he had left town the night before and could not be found. In reality he had not left the city but was in hiding waiting for his wife and the child to leave town.

Mrs. Warner was not satisfied that Warner had left the city and concluded that as long as she had come so far to find her husband she would stay awhile and see if he did not come back. She gave out that she was to leave and ostensibly went away.

Warner's friends were on the lookout for him and reported that his wife had left the city. Warner soon appeared at his accustomed haunts as if nothing had happened.

Mrs. Warner soon found out that he was here and immediately went to the district attorney to see what he could do to help her out. A complaint was made out by the district attorney and signed by Mrs. Carrie Warner stating that on the 15th day of February, at the city of Janesville S. A. Warner, did wilfully abandon and unreasonably refuse and neglect to support his child, Marie Warner, and did then willfully abandon his wife leaving her destitute.

On filing the complaint a warrant was issued by Judge Fifield and given to Under Sheriff Cochrane to serve.

Mrs. Warner although she had been deserted by Warner three years ago and left to shift for herself did not care to have him prosecuted if he would make arrangements to do something towards the support of himself and child.

Warner came here some two years ago and went into business with his brother, W. H. Warner, conducting a barber shop and news room. He passed as a single man and went around considerably with a number of the young ladies of the city. The announcement that he is married and has a wife and child which he has deserted will be something of a surprise to a number of people.

His wife is a nice looking little woman, and his daughter is a very handsome child with long flaxen curls. Most any man would be proud to have such a family to support if he was at all inclined to care for his own flesh and blood. She claims that she has had a hard struggle to get a living for herself and child and that she now wants him to contribute to its support.

Warner and his wife and child appeared in the municipal court this afternoon and the matter was settled by Warner paying his wife $850. The criminal proceedings were dropped and Warner allowed to depart.

LOWER COTTON MILL

Decide to Purchase Modern Machinery

Quite an amount of modern machinery will be purchased to replace that now in use, which is worn out and out of date.

It is the intention of the company to put the mill in shape to compete with other plants throughout the country.

Chicago Physician Writes W. F. Hayes About His Glasses.

A Chicago physician wrote W. F. Hayes recently, that he desired to know of his next visit to that city. He was fitted to glasses some time since by Mr. Hayes, and his letter states: "I have outgrown the old glasses and have made several unsuccessful attempts to secure another pair, but none of the operators have seemed to strike my case as well as you did. I wish you to test my eyes when next you visit the city." Mr. Hayes is in Janesville Saturday and Monday each week, and can be consulted at F. C. Cook & Co's.

worked up by the employment of a little ingenuity. Separate collars and revers of panne and lace require but small quantities of material and markedly improve a plain or slightly worn waist.

Always an Efficient Silver Cleaner.

There is nothing quite so good as ammonia for removing the dark tarnish which is soon deposited on silver, or on almost any metal surfaces.

Lemon juice also is a very efficient cleanser of filigree work, but the objects so cleansed with this or with ammonia, for that matter, must be rinsed with clean water and properly dried.

HAS RESPONDED TO FINAL ROLL CALL

Mrs. Anna J. Brown, a Resident of the City for Forty-six Years, Died
Last Night.

Mrs. Anna J. Brown, one of the pioneers of the city, died at 7:45 last evening at the home of her son, J. T. Brown, 105 North Franklin street after an illness of six weeks.

Deceased was born at Bellinagarry, Limerick county, Ireland, July 5, 1829 and came to this country when quite a young woman. While in Pittsburg she married Edw. L. Brown, who died some years ago and with him came to Janesville where they decided to make their home. That was at least forty-six years ago. Mrs. Brown was a quiet hard-working, industrious woman of unusual shrewdness and was well known to the older residents of the city.

She is survived by five children: Mrs. Kittie Woods of Chicago; E. E. Brown of La Prairie; Mrs. Dora Holland, J. T. and J. E. Brown of this city. The funeral will be conducted at 9:30 a. m. Monday from St. Patrick's church with interment at Mount Olivet.

MEMBERS OF U. C. T. FEAST AND DANCE

Janesville Council No. 108 Hosts of the Occasion—One Hundred and Fifty Couples Participate.

Nearly 150 couples participated in the U. C. T. banquet and dance at East Side Odd Fellows hall last evening. Janesville Council No. 108 being the hosts of the evening. The first tables were filled at 6:30 and twice afterward and the supply of good things did not run low nor did the quality deteriorate.

The dinner has the best that the market affords while on the road and is a connoisseur in all things from Delmonico means to tooth picks, so when he started out to provide a banquet for himself he knew about what to order. This department of the entertainment was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Carney, Miss Phoebe Fish and M. C. Fish.

The banquet lasted until nine o'clock and the dancers then took themselves to the dancing hall on the third floor. The orchestra from the school for the blind furnished excellent music and John Tuckwood called the quadrille changes. The festivity lasted until late into the morning and was an occasion of great hilarity.

The local members who were instrumental in the affair were C. E. Evans, A. F. Spoon, J. D. Crawford, Fred Van de Water, John Francis, I. Rosenblatt and A. F. Spooner acted as floor committee. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holcomb, Mrs. C. L. Collins, M. L. Dunn, J. B. Lantigan, A. A. Steiner, Madison, Mr. and Mrs. John Hager Mr. and Mrs. H. W. ## MANAGER MYERS FILES COMPLAINT

He Says That Local Theater Patrons
Are Slow to Appreciate Good Shows.

P. L. Myers, manager of the Myers Grand Opera house, is anything but pleased over the advance sale of seats for "The Belle of New York," which comes to Janesville next Monday night. Here is an attraction that carries sixty-five people. The greater portion of these persons are artists. A special car of scenery is necessary. This attraction is second to none in the country, and a town the size of Janesville is very fortunate in securing such a show. Yet the seats are but half sold. Edgerton, Evansville and Beloit patrons are many. The same management that controls "The Belle of New York" has also booked "The Burgmaster," "The Rounders," and "Arizona" here. Indications are that all these attractions will be called here if the show Monday night does not play to a crowded house.

Not in years have local theatre patrons had such a first class event as "The Belle of New York." From the rise to the fall of the curtain the show possesses life, dash and beauty. The prices here are not high. In London this same show played for two years at $1.50 prices. When the curtain goes up next Monday night at the Myers Grand, standing room should be at a premium. Plenty of good seats left at 50c, 75c, $1 and $1.50.

At twelve o'clock refreshments were served by the hostess and were highly enjoyed by all present. At a late hour the guests left for home, leaving the host and hostess well satisfied with their anniversary celebration.

Now that thousands of fashionable as well as intelligent ladies have discarded corsets altogether, substituting the various health waists and supports, it is amusing to note how like grim death the woman who performs manual labor for her living clings to her corset, boned, steamed and stiffened like a wagon top. A bouncing big colored woman, with biceps like a baseball player, but laced nevertheless as to her waist in sideboards tight as iron, complained lately that she was "too delicate" to do heavy work. It made her dizzy to stand upon a step ladder or to sit out upon a sill and wash windows, and she couldn't get down to scrub and couldn't shake rugs because it gave her "a pain under her lungs." What a pity she ever found out she had any lungs! A lady said to her, "If you would haul off that corset when you work, you wouldn't have any pain under your lungs." "Oh, dear me," said the colored lady, "I can't go without my corsets! If I take 'em off for ten minutes, I have such a pain in my back, it makes me crazy. All the colored ladies wears them."

Spanish is to become the most useful language for business purposes of any on the western continent. I have many a time urged young women stenographers to add a thorough knowledge of Spanish to their business equipment. When I was in Manila, there were openings of a rare advantage for stenographers and typewriters who could speak and write Spanish. The same is true of Porto Rico, Cuba and Mexico. There will be constantly more and more demand as time goes on. American girls ought to supply it. If you have opportunity, learn not only Spanish, but French and German, and learn them thoroughly.

NOT THE MEN HE WANTED TO FIND

Detective King of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad came up from Chicago today for the purpose of interviewing Gordon & Williams, the two men arrested at Beloit Thursday night by Officer Cash Whipple while they were in the act of robbing T. D. Whitford in an alley near Carney's saloon.

Detective King did not recognize the men but during the interview with them found out that they both belonged in Rockford. He is of the opinion that the cigars that were in the possession of Williams & Gordon are a part of those stolen from the St. Paul road at Muskegon, Ia. Ray Lewis and brother of Rockford have lost two large shipments lately and these may be part of the goods.

Gordon and Williams were taken before Justice Williams of Beloit yesterday and waived examination. Their trial was set for March first at the municipal court in this city. Marshall George M. Appleby brought the men up from Beloit last night and turned them over to Sheriff Matpress.

TO FORCE CUBA'S HAND.

Decided Stand Taken by the President.

OUR RELATIONS TO ISLAND.

The Cuban Constitution Must Have an "American Relations" Supplemental Clause Attached to It Before It Will Be Transmitted to Congress.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—After a consultation between the president, Secretary Root, Senator Platt of Connecticut and Senator Spooner, the announcement was made that the Cuban constitution in its present form, even should it be forwarded to Washington, will not be transmitted to congress. It must first have attached to it an "American relations" supplemental clause. The constitution, which is causing such a commotion in official circles, will be held until the subject of the relations between the United States and Cuba have left the hands of the committee of Cubans now considering it, under the tutelage of Gen. Wood. This means that the administration has decided emphatically that there shall be no Cuban constitution considered in congress until the subject of relations with Cuba is also ripe for congressional action. One waits on the other. Both are to go hand in hand.

Extra Session Sure to Come.

It is now all a game of diplomatic negotiations, of give and take in the White House and in Havana. While this is being played congress is rapidly settling down to a realization that it must come back here late in March in extra session and attend to business. President McKinley has been informed that when Gen. Wood laid before the committee of the Cuban constitutional convention the letter from Secretary Root embodying the views of the administration as to what the declaration of the relations between the two republics should set forth, there was positive objection to at least two of the proposals. Members of the committee did not object to the United States having something to say as to the bonded debt of Cuba. Nor did they object to the United States having a say in the foreign affairs of Cuba. They did object to the United States having a right to intervene in any matter, and they entered a most emphatic protest against the United States having coaling stations on the island.

Gov. Wood Asks Instructions.

Havana, Feb. 23.—Gov. Gen. Wood has informed the authorities at Washington that the Cuban constitution has been officially presented to him, and that he awaited instructions whether to forward the document immediately or hold it until the relations between Cuba and the United States are decided upon. The special committee on relations is holding a meeting. Senor Tamayo, chairman of the committee, will submit to the committee Gen. Wood's letter referring to the relations. Senor Tamayo has also decided to present the letter at an executive session of the convention.

Odds and Ends in the House.

The house devoted the day to odds and ends of legislation. Under an arrangement entered into yesterday a large number of smaller bills in which members are individually interested were passed. An hour was devoted to unanimous consent legislation and two hours and a half each to the passage of private claims bills and private pension bills. Nine bills were passed by unanimous consent and twenty-nine claims bills and 139 pension bills were passed.

Big Supply Bills Are Passed.

Two of the great supply bills of the government—the postoffice and the diplomatic and consular appropriation bills—were passed by the senate.

CHAOS RULES IN CHINA.

The Province of Pechili Is Badly Upset.

STARVATION AT CITY OF PEKIN.

The Negotiations Are Satisfactory to the Ministers and the Envoys—Chinese Official at London Says Tuan Should Suffer Death Penalty.

Pekin, Feb. 23.—The ministers think that the negotiations are progressing satisfactorily and the Chinese envoys think so, too, since the new turn of events works toward saving their heads. The province of Pechili is very much upset by German expeditions. There is no formal Chinese government, and total chaos reigns over 2,000,000 people. The inhabitants of Peking are all but starving to death, and for two months the allied kitchens have contributed to keep thousands of Chinese alive. A message reached the foreign ministers from the Chinese peace commissioners saying the edicts regarding the punishments, the cessation of examinations and the responsibility of the viceroys and governors have been signed. The text has not yet arrived. Many good judges consider that so long as Germany keeps a large army on foot in north China the chance for a peaceful settlement with the Chinese government, even when a formal government clothed with authority is found, are small.

Official Says Tuan Should Die.

London, Feb. 23.—High Chinese authorities in London declare that the powers will make a botch of the whole far-eastern business if they allow Prince Tuan to escape the death penalty. One of these said: "The commutation of Prince Tuan's sentence from beheading to banishment to central Asia would not only be a farce, but a gross betrayal of those Chinese officials, including Li Hung Chang, Prince Ching, Loh Feng Luh and Wu Ting Fang, who, relying upon the support of the powers, have recommended the decapitation of Prince Tuan. The latter, however remotely banished, would return and assume the reins of power at the first opportunity. This done he would command the execution of all his enemies whom he could reach. Tuan's guilt exceeds that of every other culprit involved. He regards the slaughter of the foreigners as the highest form of patriotic duty."

Students Fight in a Ring.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 23.—As an indirect result of an attempt on the part of the juniors of the state university to break up a banquet held by the seniors of that institution, Guy H. Robertson, '01, and Paul Coates Harper, '02, two of the most prominent students of the university, fought to a finish with bare fists at the old flour mill near Ravens park. The fight was in the presence of City of the leading upper-class men. Four rounds were fought, at the end of which Robertson was completely knocked out by a succession of blows on the head and face.

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake is Made By Many Janesville People

It's a common error to plaster the aching back, to rub with liniment rheumatic joints, when the trouble comes from the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills, and are endorsed by Janesville citizens.

Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 208 Locust St., journeyman carver, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretions from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-McBurr Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for U. S. A. so on at King's Pharmacy.

TO CURE THE GRIP.

Advice of a Famous Physician. First and foremost, rest. Take care of yourself. Your already weakened nerves want rest, and must have it. If the attack is severe go to bed and remain there. More fatalities result from neglect of this precaution than from any other cause. Eat sparingly. Your digestive organs are in no condition to take care of the large quantities of food. Drink plenty of pure cold water. It alays the fever, stimulates the kidneys to action and opens up the pores of the skin. Keep the bowels open with Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. Take three doses of Dr. Miles' Nerve per day, and if you cannot sleep take an extra dose at bed time. ## MR. BOWSER'S WOES.

HIS THEORY OF TRANSMIGRATION GETS HIM INTO TROUBLE.

He Had No Difficulty Whatever in Recognizing the Soul of the Family Cat, but It Wasn't Such an Easy Matter With the Belligerent Tramp.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.]

Mr. Bowser had come home to dinner looking thoughtful and during the meal had seemed preoccupied, and though Mrs. Bowser was sure that there was something on his mind, she waited until he was ready to state his case. By and by he said:

"I don't know that I ever mentioned the fact to you that I have always been a firm believer in the doctrine of transmigration, but such is the case, and there was a man in the office this afternoon who greatly strengthened my belief. Something truly wonderful occurred."

"Dear me, but have you broken out again?" sighed Mrs. Bowser as she looked up.

"That's right! Pitch right into me ing for a recollection. The cat half closed her eyes and purred, and for a minute he could not be sure whether he had ever met her soul before in any other guise or not. Then as she opened her eyes until they seemed to be as big as tea saucers and drew one down in a sort of wink a sudden flood of memory swept over him. The soul of a red-headed boy who used to live next door to him when he was a lad had passed into the cat. Moreover, that red-headed boy used to cuff him around and call him all sorts of names. It all came back in an instant. It came back to the cat as well as to Mr. Bowser, and she gave a yowl and a spit and made for a safe asylum on the top floor.

"By thunder, but I've struck it!" whispered Mr. Bowser as he walked around with an avestruk look on his face. "Yes, sir, the soul of that young Jim Sullivan passed into our old cat, and I'll give her a wallop tomorrow to get even! I've got the doctrine down pat, and Mrs. Bowser can't say a word."

He was trembling in his excitement when the cook came up and said there was a tramp at the door who wanted a nickel.

"Bring him right up," said Mr. Bowser. "It's a chance to try the other end of the doctrine. Who knows but that the soul of Shakespeare or Milton is wandering about behind the jacket of this tramp?"

The tramp came up. He said if it hadn't been for the Chicago fire, the yellow fever, the Spanish war and the blowing up of the Maine he'd never been obliged to ask for public charity, and Mr. Bowser kindly replied:

"That's all right, my friend. I'm going to give you a quarter, but I'm going to ask if you have never felt that you were some one else?"

"I have," said the man. "Yes, sir, there have been times when I felt that I used to be Napoleon or George Washington."

"By James, but what a coincidence—what corroboration!" whispered Mr. Bowser. "You—you have heard of transmigration?"

THE TRAMP CLUTCHED HIM BY THE THROAT.

before you have heard a word about it!" he exclaimed as he flushed up. "Why can't you give me a fair show? I never sit down on you the minute you open your mouth to tell me something."

"But the doctrine of transmigration is no doctrine at all," she protested. "It's only a theory, and I never knew a sensible person who believed in it."

"Then if I believe in it, and I do, I must be a fool! Very well; we'll say no more about it."

"You said something truly wonderful occurred. Let's see how wonderful it was. Perhaps you can convert me to your belief."

"I'll tell you what happened," said Mr. Bowser after chewing the rag for a minute. "This gentleman, who has given the doctrine of transmigration over 20 years of thought and study, recognized in our office cat a schoolboy friend of his who died 30 years ago."

"What boshy nonsense!" exclaimed Mrs. Bowser.

"Yes; I knew you would say that, and probably others would say the same, but that's exactly what happened, and if you'd been there you'd have felt a chill go over you. Lordy, but it was a dramatic scene! I can't get over it."

"Yes; it must have been dramatic! I suppose the cat also recognized him?"

"She did—she did!" he whispered as he came closer to her. "Yes, by George, the cat recognized him, and that's what I can't get over! We were talking about the souls of human beings passing into the bodies of animals, when the cat woke and jumped up into the man's lap and looked him straight in the eyes. He stroked her back and called her Jerry, and she meowed and showed by every action that she recognized him. The soul of his dead schoolmate had passed into the cat, and I'll bet a thousand to one it had."

"And the idea struck you," said Mrs. Bowser as a faint smile appeared on her face. "that the soul of some of your old chums might have passed into the body of our own cat? I see what you are getting at. Go ahead and experiment, but please excuse me. I've got to run in and see Mrs. Brown for a few minutes. You can tell me all about it when I get back."

"You—you don't think it's foolish?" asked Mr. Bowser in a shamefaced way.

"Oh, no! If the cat happens to represent some dear old friend of yours, it will be awfully nice. You can get lots of pointers on transmigration, as well as catching mice and yawning around on back fences. Tell me all about it when I get back."

When she had departed, Mr. Bowser coaxed the cat to jump up into a chair, and he sat down in another and looked her straight in the eyes. He was seek-

"I have, and I believe that the soul of some great man was reborn at my birth. I've got the feeling and can't get rid of it. I often find myself thinking what I believe, Napoleon used to think."

"By James—by James! I only wish Mrs. Bowser was here to hear you talk. She thinks I'm a fool about transmigration, but here is living, breathing evidence. Yes, you may be carrying the soul of Napoleon about. Come to look at you more closely, I'm sure I see a marked."

Mr. Bowser stopped there. The tramp clutched him by the throat and laid him on the floor and compressed his windpipe till he was black in the face. It was done neatly and quietly, and when the stranger passed out by the front door he carried Mr. Bowser's gold watch and spare dollars. He had transmigrated himself a mile away when Mrs. Bowser entered the house to find Mr. Bowser sitting up against the wall with a wild look in his eyes and the cat sitting near by.

"Well, what's happened now?" she asked.

He pointed to the cat.

"Yes, you found an old friend, but the cat didn't tear your necktie and collar off and leave marks on your throat."

He pointed toward the front door.

"I see. You have had some one in from the street to practice on, and the soul of Captain Kidd jumped on you. Well, I guess your soul had better transmute up to bed and turn into a hair mattress while I get a rag and some liniment for your throat."

MUST SHOW UP THE PERILS.

Dr. Parkhurst's Plan to Rouse the People on Vice Question.

New York, Feb. 23.—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst gives out an interview on vice in New York, the present conditions in police affairs; and the outlook for municipal reform. After stating that he had long favored a single-headed police department but that he believed a mistake had been made in giving the governor power to remove the chief arbitrarily, he said:

"I have been wondering and giving serious thought to the problem. How can we continue to appeal to the great mass of decent citizenship, regardless of party ties, rouse them from threatened apathy and hold their interest in a sustained movement for municipal reform? I have about concluded that we can best do it by showing them the perils and the pitfalls to which their children and ours are exposed by the systematic toleration and encouragement of the most repulsive forms of vice. In so far as I can influence it that will be the direction the campaign of enlightenment will take from this time forward."

"Talk about the church saving the young! Good heaven! Why, the young of this city today are being degraded daily in the resorts of vice, in the poolrooms and the gambling houses, in the very public streets and the doorways of dwelling houses faster than all Christian churches can hope to save them."

"For these offensive conditions I do not so much blame the rank and file of the police force. For them I feel much sympathy and friendship. They, too, are often the victims of the vicious system to which they are forced to be subservient."

Must Answer for Old Murder.

Washington, Ind., Feb. 23.—George and John Reeves, charged with murdering Deputy Sheriff John E. Gardner and William Cox in Dubois county June 1, 1885, are now confined in the county jail at Jasper. ## Ohio Student Shot in the Leg.

Springfield, O., Feb. 23.—The war between the "frat" and "non-frat" men at Wittenberg college broke out again, resulting in G. H. Myers being shot in the left leg. A crowd of students thinking that George E. McCord of Nokomis, Ill., was attending a lecture, visited his room on a little "stacking" matinee. They bored a hole in the door in their endeavors to enter the room, when all of a sudden McCord blazed away with his revolver through the lower panel, hitting Myers. The faculty has begun an investigation and is still in session. It is probable some students will be made an example of.

The Blizzard in Michigan.

St. Joseph, Mich., Feb. 23.—The worst blizzard of the season, accompanied with a northwest gale, prevailed here for twenty hours. All freight trains on the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa railroad are imprisoned by a wall of snow that collected during the night in Galien Cut, twenty miles south of this city. Trains are blocked at each end of the cut, and all trains on the Michigan division between South Bend and this city were blocked until noon.

Kicked and Broke His Neck.

Deshler, Neb., Feb. 23.—August Koerwitz, a German farmer living north of here, broke his neck while kicking at a vicious dog. Koerwitz had just come to town and hitched his team. He started to cross the street, when the dog ran at him. The farmer made a vigorous kick. The ground was icy, and Koerwitz slipped and fell backward, breaking his neck. He died instantly. Koerwitz was 50 years old.

WOMAN'S SKIDNEY TROUBLES

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing this Fatal Woman's Disease.

Of all the diseases known with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women.

The following letters will show how marvellously successful it is:

Aug. 6, 1899.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am failing very fast, since January have lost thirty-five or forty pounds. I have a yellow, muddy complexion, feel tired, and have bearing down pains. Menstrues have not appeared for three months; sometimes I am troubled with a white discharge, and I also have kidney and bladder trouble. I have been this way for a long time, and feel so miserable I thought I would write to you, and see if you could do me any good."—Miss EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio.

Sept. 10, 1899.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound according to directions, and can say I have not felt so well for years as I do at present. Before taking your medicine a more miserable person you never saw. I could not eat or sleep, and did not care to talk with any one. I did not enjoy life at all. Now, I feel so well I cannot be grateful enough for what you have done for me. You are surely a woman's friend. Thanking you a thousand times, I remain,
Ever yours,
Miss EDNA FREDERICK,
Troy, Ohio.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and cannot praise it enough. I had headaches, leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, and kidney trouble. I also had a pain when standing or walking, and sometimes there seemed to be balls of fire in front of me, so that I could not see for about twenty minutes. Felt as if I had had no sleep for two weeks. Had fainting spells, was down-hearted, and would cry."—Mrs. BERTHA OFFER, Second and Clayton Sts., Chester Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot find language to express the terrible suffering I have had to endure. I had female trouble, also liver, stomach, kidney, and bladder trouble. I tried several doctors, also quite a number of patent medicines, and had despaired of ever getting well. At last I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, thanks to your medicine, I am a well woman. I can not praise your medicine too highly for I know it will do all, and even more, than it is recommended to do. I tell every suffering woman about your Vegetable Compound, and urge them to try it and see for themselves what it will do."—Mrs. MARY A. HIPLE, No. Manchester, Ind.

REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 26.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.
Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhoea. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

IS THE COLLEGE GIRL FIT FOR MATRIMONY?

New York, Feb. 23—"Is the college girl fitted for matrimony?" This was the bomb which Mrs. Mark W. Potter exploded today at the Electric club's meeting at Delmonico's. "She goes through the course, nibbling at a dozen sciences and philosophies and two or three languages and receives a chaotic instruction, destitute of true ideals and relations to every day life. Then," contended the speaker, "when she marries she finds herself absolutely unfitted for housekeeping and wifehood and regards it as irksome and distasteful instead of the dearest and most beautiful and natural work. She is restless, dissatisfied, rebellious, longs for the freedom of college days and repudiates duty. She has not been taught her place and function in life."

"Our girls," went on the speaker, "should not be educated as our boys are. They are essentially different creatures. Woman's place is in the home. Our girls should be taught first of all in the good old-fashioned way to keep house, to sew and cook, how to treat her body, how to train her mind, how to manage her affairs and how to bring up children."

"I believe," cried Mrs. Leon Harvier, "that the higher education fits me better for everything in life. It even helps to wash dishes intelligently. I wash them well because I am a graduate of that famous Emma Willard Female Seminary in Troy that Mrs. Sage attended."

"Most college women I have known," said Mrs. S. Bigelow, "have had unhappy married lives. They are dissatisfied."

"They sacrifice their emotions and feelings to their mentality," declared Mrs. Richard Stearns. "That is the unfortunate part of it."

"Well," asserted Mrs. Harvier, "my vote is for the higher education. You've read of Mrs. Augusta Stetson, the Christian Scientist. She is the daughter of Alexander H. Rice, one of the war governors of Massachusetts; highly educated and reared in the greatest luxury. When her husband failed she turned to this and is earning $5,000 a year. I don't believe in Christian Science, but I think she's a mighty clever woman."

YOUNGEST REAR ADMIRAL.

He Will Be Francis T. Bowles, Soon to Become Chief Naval Constructor.

On March 4 next Rear Admiral Philip Hichborn, chief constructor of the United States navy and chief of the bureau of construction and repairs, will retire because on that day he will reach the age limit. 62 years of officers on the active list. This age limit applies to all our naval officers but Admiral Dewey.

The man who will fill Rear Admiral Hichborn's exceedingly important position is Francis T. Bowles, who is now a naval constructor. The chief constructor of the navy is ex officio a rear admiral, and Rear Admiral Bowles, to give him his future title, will be the youngest officer of that rank on our naval register. He will also probably have the distinction of being the youngest man who ever held the rank of rear admiral in our navy. He is only 42 years of age, having been born in Springfield, Mass., on Oct. 7, 1858.

The Bowles family is one of considerable importance in Massachusetts. An uncle of the naval constructor was the founder of the Springfield Republican, one of the best known newspapers of New England. In spite of this fact the coming rear admiral is said to have an antipathy for newspaper men and a decided dislike of being interviewed. Among his friends, however, he is genial and companionable. He is a short, thin little man, and most of his hair has been worn off by hard thinking. He is not at all anxious for public recognition, for, he says, "My friends know and understand me; as for others, I don't care what they think of me."

Constructor Bowles' service in the navy dates from Sept. 15, 1875, when he was appointed a cadet engineer. On Nov. 1, 1881, he was made assistant naval constructor and on Oct. 10, 1888, naval constructor. He was the first member of the construction corps to graduate from the Naval Academy. The officials of the navy department have a very high opinion of Constructor Bowles, which opinion is justified by his work in the past. He constructed the battleship Texas and the cruiser Raleigh, and during his service at Norfolk he developed that yard into a first class naval station. At present Mr. Bowles is stationed at Brooklyn.

DAUGHTER OF REVOLUTION.

Mrs. Dunham's Sire Fought For

If patriotic ancestry were a condition of nobility in America, as it is in some other countries, Mrs. Sylvia Langdon Dunham of Plantsville, Conn., would be a countess at least. Mrs. Dunham enjoys the very rare distinction of being an original "daughter of the Revolution"—that is, she is the daughter of one of our heroic Revolutionary sires. Mrs. Dunham's father was Captain Giles Langdon, who did valiant service in the Continental army. The old lady has just passed her one hundredth birthday and bids fair to live for many more years. Another real daughter of the Revolution died a short time ago in Philadelphia.

In this connection it is interesting to note that on June 30, 1900, we still had on our pension rolls the names of four widows of Revolutionary soldiers. As the youngest of these links with the olden time is only 83 it is quite possible that the widow of a Revolutionary soldier of 1776 may be drawing a pension in 1916.

CONNER

Truly speaking, there are and can be no classes in society. The Almighty created us all, and one soul is undoubtedly as valuable as another exactly. But mankind for purposes of their own have established an artificial distinction, according to the wealth they possess, making the richest the so-called upper class, the next richest the middle and the very poor the way down low division. Fashions and fads originate with the so-called upper class. When the middle rank adopts them, the upper crust leaves them off, to be different, not having any other method of distinguishing itself from anybody else. By and by, when the new mode becomes spread among the low-down people, then the middle-people leave it off in turn, so nobody can mistake them for common trash. Now, then, a generation ago it was the proper thing for rich ladies to be very delicate. The consumptive heroine, languishing and dying, with lover and friends shedding barrels of tears over her, was the fad. By degrees this Camille sort of heroine faded off life's stage—and a good riddance to her—and the athletic heroine came in, who is now the fad. May she remain so till Gabriel's trumpet shall sound. Girls of the so-called upper and middle classes, pride themselves on their lung and muscle power. They swim, row, ride bicycles, play stiff outdoor games and begin to know how joyful as well as fashionable it is to be without an ache or pain and able to throw a stone and hit a mark. But now, too, observe the fad for delicacy among women has reached its lowest depth before it is finally kicked out of the world feminine. It is at length the so-called low class lady, the scrub lady, the 200 pound wash lady and the kitchen girl who pride themselves on their physical inability. "I look strong, but I ain't; I'm mighty delicate," is their complacent cry.

Life is more than clothes, though some women have not found it out yet.

It took five years to get the French parliament to pass an act permitting women to practice law. A number of French ladies, however, prepared themselves for admission to the bar, and when just at the close of last year the desperately opposed permission finally was achieved there were 14 women lawyers ready to begin the new century.

Minnesota in the Lead.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 23.—Minnesota secured the highest award and three out of four medals at the buttermakers' national convention.
